OVERVIEW:

This presentation will provide participants with the new American Nurses Association (ANA) Scope and Standards for Nursing Leadership that redefines nursing leadership wherever it is practiced. The speakers will discuss why the significant changes were made and the process by which it was accomplished.

OBJECTIVES:

- Describe the evolution of the nursing administration specialty practice to the nursing leadership specialty practice;
- Define the specialty of nursing leadership and share how the 2023 edition addresses the challenges and new opportunities that exist in the work environments spanning today's healthcare continuum; and
- Discuss how nurse leaders should apply the scope and standards for nursing leadership.

MEET YOUR FACULTY:

Simmy King, DNP, MS, RN-BC, NE-BC, CHSE, FAAN, is the Chief Nursing Informatics & Education Officer at Children's National Hospital, where she is accountable for the development and strategic implementation of information systems, technology, and education to advance safe, effective, and equitable interprofessional clinical practice. Her research and scholarship focus on trauma informed care, nurse wellbeing and innovative strategies for nursing education and transition to practice. She has served on boards and commissions at the local, state, and national levels, including appointed board member positions on the DC Board of Nursing and the American Organization for Nursing Leadership (AONL) Board of Directors. Currently, she serves as AONL Treasurer, an At-Large Member for Virginia Organization of Nurse Leaders, and as an appointed Commissioner for the City of Fairfax, Commission for Women.

Christina "Christy" Dempsey, DNP, RN, CNOR, CENP, FAAN is the CEO of Christina Dempsey Enterprises, LLC and the former Chief Nursing Officer for Press Ganey Associates. She is a registered nurse with more than 30 years of healthcare experience regularly speaking and publishing nationally and internationally on nursing, perioperative and emergency services, patient flow, medical practice operations, supply chain, and physician/hospital collaboration. Dr. Dempsey has served as adjunct faculty for the Missouri State University School of Nursing and holds a doctoral degree in nursing practice from Quinnipiac University, master's degrees in business and nursing from Missouri State University, and certifications in perioperative nursing and executive nursing practice. She is a Fellow in the American Academy of Nursing and serves as President of the Missouri Organization of Nurse leaders.
